FARM PROBLEMS BECOME MORE COMPLICATED

DEMAND FOR FARM PRODUCTS IS LESSEMED

INCREASING COMPETITION FOR EXPORT TRADE, IN LIVE-STOCK, CEREAL PRODUCTS

SLOW RECOVERY OF INDUSTRIAL NATIONS FORMERLY OUR CUSTOMERS

Washington, July 1.—(UP)—The agricultural situation, soon to be faced by the new federal farm board being appointed by President Hoover, presents problems that are continually becoming more complicated according to Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, one of a committee appointed by the president when he was secretary of commerce to study "recent economic changes."

"Basic difficulties in the agricultural industry have not been removed, and new complications are continually being thrust into the picture," Dr. Nourse declared in his report made public last night.

Difficulties which Dr. Nourse said lessen demand for farm products include:

1. Increasing competition for our export trade in livestock and cereal products.
2. Slow recovery of industrial nations formerly our customers.
3. Changes in dietary habits, fashions in clothes, restriction of immigration and other facts restricting demand.
4. Spread of power farming, replacing draft animals and curtailing demand for agricultural products still further.

Other difficulties, affecting the supply of farm products included: more land coming into use, increased efficiency of farmers offsetting declines in land fertility, and increased productivity of the farm worker.

High freight rates, increases in many handling and selling charges, higher cost of labor and facilities used in preparing goods for the consumer were listed in the report as difficulties in the field of distribution.

St. Paul, July 1.—W. S. Moscript, Lake Elmo, Minn., dairyman whom on Saturday was offered a post of the new federal farm board by President Hoover, revealed here today he had not yet decided to take the position but would probably announce his decision Tuesday.

At the same time it was revealed there would be no "row" in the executive board of the Twin City Milk Producers Association, which met here today, due to the fact W. F. Schilling, president, had not been offered the post instead of Moscript.

The Northfield man had been strongly supported by his friends for the position and it was rumored a bitter fight was bound to ensue because President Hoover had made Moscript, the secretary-treasurer of the association, first choice over Schilling.

Schilling himself discounted the "row" rumors.

"If the appointment has been formally offered to Mr. Moscript," Schilling said, "and if he wants my opinion about it, I shall not hesitate to advise his acceptance, in spite of the fact that I was endorsed by the Twin City Milk Producers Association."

Moscript said he was completely surprised by the invitation of President Hoover and had informed the chief executive he would not be able to decide until after he had conferred with other officers of the association.

"I shall probably not make known my final decision until Tuesday," Moscript said.

Both men said their own personal ambitions would not be permitted to stand in the way of the greatest good for farm relief.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE PLANE TO FLY TO BERLIN WEDNESDAY

Chicago, July 1.—(UP)—The "Untin" Bowler, the Chicago Tribune's Sikorsky amphibian, will leave early Wednesday morning on its flight to Berlin, via the northern route, weather permitting.

A severe electrical storm gave the big plane its "baptism of fire" as it neared Chicago last night. It had been buffeted in gales all the way from Cleveland.

Bob Gast and "Shorty" Cramer, pilots, agreed that its battle with the elements from Buffalo to Cleveland and from Cleveland to Milwaukee and Chicago had proven the ship's ability to outlive the rough Arctic weather on the five-day flight to Berlin.

37 WHO ATE WEDDING CAKE SERIOUSLY ILL

Brookfield, Ill., July 1.—(UP)—Thirty-seven persons who partook of the wedding cake at the marriage of Louis Assaro and Edith Comara were confined to bed today by food poisoning.

The home of the bridegroom's father, where the wedding and the feast were held, was transformed into a hospital, to accommodate the stricken newlyweds, their families and guests. Nine children were among those affected by the poisoning.

Four physicians were in attendance. Immediate administration of emetics prevented possible deaths, doctors said.

Crumbs of the cake's colored frosting were collected for analysis.

FIREWORKS STOCK EXPLODES, BURNS HOUSE, KILLS 4

BLAST TRAPPED 70 PATRONS AND EMPLOYEES IN TRAGIC SHOWER OF SPARKS

ST. LOUIS PROPRIETOR CHARGED WITH ILLEGAL SALE BEFORE JULY 1

St. Louis, Mo., July 1.—(UP)—Fire works were on sale at the Frank A. Scharlott 5 & 10 cents store here several hours before an unexplained explosion demolished the structure and killed four children, Police Captain McGuire testified today at the coroner's inquest.

Scharlott, the proprietor, under $5,000 bond, was called before Coroner William Dever to tell what he knew about the blast that trapped 70 patrons and employees in a tragic shower of sparks which rapidly consumed his store. He is charged with illegal sale prior to July 1.

Just what happened to cause the explosion probably never will be known, although investigators believed a spark was struck by crossed electric wires running over the fireworks counter. One report said "a man with a cigar" was responsible. The four victims—three burned beyond recognition—were Eileen Boss, 11; Loraine Willmering, 12; Veronica O'Toole, 15, and Thomas Henderson, 12.

The Henderson boy was found with his pockets stuffed with fireworks, police said. Scharlott refused to testify on advice of counsel. Police Captain Arthur McGuire testified patrons of the store told him they purchased fireworks at the store Saturday.

Fire Sweeps Through Number of Cabins on German Liner

New York, July 1.—(UP)—Fire today swept through a number of cabins on the Hamburg-American liner Deutschland as she was on her way from quarantine to the pier at the foot of West 46th street.

Six lines of hose were required to extinguish the flames, which were started when a pot of grease was spilled on C deck.

There was no panic on board, and the crew was able to put out the fire without outside assistance.

WM. F. KUNZE, BANKER, IS NOW MILL CITY MAYOR

Minneapolis, July 1.—(UP)—William F. Kunze, a banker, today became mayor of Minneapolis.

The new chief executive of the city took the oath of office at the city hall in the presence of the city council and a large group of citizens.

General George E. Leach, whom Kunze defeated in the municipal elections, was not present when his successor took office.

Mayor Kunze indicated no further shake-ups were contemplated in the police department but that former Chief Frank W. Brunsell, ousted a year ago by Leach, would be reinstated as a precinct captain.

The new mayor will deliver an address over KSTP at 9 p. m. today.

Division of Eastern Railroads Into Five Major Trunk Line Systems Proposed By Wabash Road

MERGER PLEA FILED WITH I. C. C. BY LINE

TO SERVE TERRITORY BETWEEN MIDWESTERN CITIES AND EASTERN SEABOARD

APPROVAL BY THE COMMISSION WOULD CREATE NEW TRUNK LINE RAILROAD

Washington, July 1.—(UP)—Division of eastern railroads into five major trunk line systems serving the territory between midwestern cities and the eastern seaboard was proposed today in a merger petition filed with the Interstate commerce commission by the Wabash railway.

The Wabash asked the commission to approve formation of a fifth trunk line comprising its own lines and those of nine other railroads, with one-sixth control of four additional carriers and trackage rights over existing roads to give it access to many important terminals.

Approval of the Wabash petition by the commission would create a new trunk line railroad with eastern terminals at the Atlantic seaboard ports of New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore and with western terminal at Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha and Des Moines.

It would also serve such intervening cities as Detroit, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Toledo, Cleveland, Akron, Fort Wayne and Decatur. Gateways to New England are a part of the Wabash plan.

Lines which the Wabash sought permission to acquire outright either under lease, by purchase of stock or in any other manner approved by the commission, were: Lehigh Valley, Wheeling & Lake Erie; Pittsburgh & West Virginia; Western Maryland; Lehigh & New England; Akron, Canton & Youngstown; Elgin, Joliet & Eastern; Toledo, Peoria & Western; Chicago & Illinois Midland.

Assails Methodist Board of Temperance

Washington, July 1.—(UP)—Charging the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals with violation of the corrupt practices act, Rep. Tinkham, republican, Massachusetts, has written Attorney General Mitchell demanding prosecution of that organization.

Tinkham declared the Methodist organization has violated the law which requires any person "influencing in two or more states the election of candidates" to file an itemized statement of such expenditures with the clerk of the house.

The church board has not filed such a report, Tinkham said, although it sends out "literature exclusively political in character."

WELL, LINDBERGH WILL NOT TAKE UP CHICKEN FARMING

Kansas City, Mo., July 1.—(UP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife, the former Anne Morrow, do not share the popular dream of "buying a little chicken farm and settling down away from the world."

One of the first questions asked by newspaper men here almost caused Lindbergh to break his usual rule of refusing to discuss his private affairs.

"When are we going to settle down?" he said excitedly. "Say, we don't want to raise any chickens—but what has that to do with the Transcontinental Air Transport? That's what I'm representing."

"No, I'm not going to Mexico City. Not at present, anyway." Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh were expected to leave here late today for Wichita, Kan.

KING GEORGE V RETURNS TO HIS CAPITAL TODAY

RECUPERATES FROM SERIOUS ILLNESS AFTER ABSENCE OF 5 MONTHS

MONARCH'S RETURN IS ALMOST TRIUMPHAL IN CHAR- ACTER

London, July 1.—(UP)—King George V. returned to his capital today after an absence of nearly five months in which he was recuperating from his serious illness at Craigwell House and at Windsor Castle.

The king's return was almost triumphal. The streets along the route were lined with tremendous cheering crowds, bare-headed despite the raw, cold day. Queen Mary, smiling and happy, sat beside the king as he rode toward Buckingham Palace.

IMMIGRATION LAW PROVISION EFFECTIVE TODAY

Washington, July 1.—(UP)—The national origins basis for America's selective immigration quota system became effective today over the protest of President Hoover who opposed the plan as impracticable.

The outstanding changes effected by the new system of allocating quotas are to reduce potential German immigration by half and to increase that by about the same margin.

British and northern Irish immigration from Scandinavia will be reduced about one-third by the new program.

CATHOLICS OF MEXICO WORSHIP IN OWN CHURCHES

WILDEST ENTHUSIASM FOR A TIME ENDANGERS LIVES OF WORSHIPPERS

THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT REMOVES ITS CENSORSHIP NEWS SATURDAY

Mexico City, July 1.—(UP)—The wildest enthusiasm, which for a time endangered the lives of many worshippers, marked the first Sunday in three years that Mexican Catholics were able to worship under the direction of their priests and in their own churches.

Thousands of the faithful crowded into all the churches which have been returned to the clergy, to hear early mass and the services that followed. The jams were so great in many of the edifices that police were called to maintain order.

Several women fainted in the basilica of Guadalupe and in the churches in Mexico City. Archbishop Diaz, who officiated at pontifical mass and at the later te deum at Guadalupe, left the basilica only with the greatest difficulty.

The Mexican government removed its censorship news Saturday with even more suddenness than it had been imposed the previous day. The reason was not given for the censorship and why it was lifted within 48 hours likewise was not explained.

President Emilio Portes Gil continued his tactics for promoting the friendliest relations between the government and the church by refusing the request of Gov. Adalberto Tejada of Vera Cruz to allow an anti-clerical demonstration in that state.

The president explained that he did not wish demonstrations by either side.

Passenger Bus Accident Kills 1 and Injures 7

Canton, O., July 1.—(UP)—Miss Kate Greames, 27, of Clinton, was killed and seven other persons injured here today when a passenger bus swerved to avoid striking a truck and careened into a group of pedestrians. After striking the pedestrians the bus crashed into a tree.

2 GUNMEN HOLD UP MESSENGER; SECURE $10,000

Akron, O., July 1.—(UP)—Two gunmen today held up S. W. Jackson, Industrial Savings and Loan company messenger, and escaped with $10,000.

NATIONAL FARM AND HOME HOUR ON RADIO DAILY

New York, July 1.—(UP)—A daily program prepared by the department of agriculture will be broadcast over a National Broadcasting company network of 31 stations, beginning July 8, it was announced today.

The feature, to be known as the National Farm and Home hour, will be broadcast every day, except Sunday, from 1:30 to 2:15 p. m. eastern standard time. Each program will include special economic reports, agricultural information and facts on home making practices developed by department specialists and administrators.

The series will be opened by an address by Secretary Hyde. The network will be headed by WJZ and will extend as far west as Denver.

GIVE TRIUMPHAL RECEPTION TO THE SPANISH FLIERS

SUCH AS MARKED RETURN OF CONQUERING HEROES IN FEUDAL DAYS

WERE SNATCHED FROM WAVES OF ATLANTIC WHEN ALL BUT GIVEN UP FOR DEAD

By JOHN DE GANDT (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Madrid, July 1.—A triumphal reception such as marked the return of conquering heroes in the days when Spain ruled the western world was prepared here today in honor of the four homecoming fliers who were snatched from the waves of the Atlantic at a moment when they were all but given up for dead.

Had Commander Ramon Franco and his three flight companions—Eduardo Gallarza, Ruiz Alda and Pedro Madariaga—succeeded in reaching the United States as they had set out to do, their homecoming could not possibly have been any more enthusiastic and as elaborate as Madrid and all of Spain are collaborating to make it.

The fliers, speeding toward Europe aboard the British ship that saved them, the airplane carrier Eagle, are expected to land at Gibraltar tomorrow morning, about 9 A. M. From there they will be brought to Madrid, in triumph, through towns where the enthusiasm is as great as it is here, and through a countryside which yesterday offered thanksgiving in the churches for the rescue of the valiant airmen.

In fact every town in the kingdom is planning a celebration of its own. The joy throughout Spain is so unbridled that wherever two or more persons gather the only topic of conversation is "los aviadores." In cafes, in the streets, in theaters, on street corners, los aviadores and the greatness of the British navy are the only subjects talked about.

The national joy at the rescue was all the greater since very few believed that the fliers could possibly be alive. The manner in which the search was conducted and the refusal of the warships of five nations to give up the task as a hopeless one also came in for expressions of admiration on all sides.

London, July 1.—King Alfonso of Spain, on learning that the Spanish fliers had been saved from the Atlantic by the British airplane carrier Eagle, motored to Windsor Castle to offer his thanks to King George for Great Britain's part in the miraculous rescue, it was revealed here today.

Great joy was felt throughout England for the part the Eagle played in the saving of Commander Ramon Franco and his three companions. Some of the newspapers today suggested that the admiralty officially recognize the officers and men of the plane carrier.

Col. Lindbergh Flies in Glider at St. Louis Field

St. Louis, Mo., July 1.—(UP)—For the first time in his life, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh flew in a glider here Sunday at Lambert-St. Louis field, while 10,000 persons watched. When he landed after a short hop, he expressed pleasure at the experience.

TREASURY STARTS FISCAL YEAR WITH LARGE SURPLUS

FISCAL YEAR 1930 USHERED IN WITH A SURPLUS OF $185,000,000

PUBLIC DEBT IS NOW LESS THAN 17 BILLION, FOR FIRST TIME SINCE WAR

Washington, July 1.—(UP)—The treasury started the fiscal year 1930 today with a surplus of $185,000,000, a public debt of less than $17,000,000,000 for the first time since the war and with government finances generally in a "highly satisfactory state," Secretary Mellon announced today.

Closing the treasury's books for the present fiscal year last night, Mellon announced the surplus, which exceeded the treasury's first estimate by $148,000,000. His statement said:

"The government closed the fiscal year with its finances in a highly satisfactory state. Receipts again exceeded expenditures by a substantial amount, while our national debt shows a reduction over the 12-month period just closed of approximately $673,000,000 as compared with one of $907,000,000 in 1928. For the first time since the war, our national debt is now below $17,000,000,000.

"The total ordinary receipts amounted to $4,033,000,000 as compared with $3,644,000,000 in the fiscal year 1928. The expenditures chargeable against such receipts were $3,848,000,000 as compared with $3,644,000,000 in 1928. The surplus amounted to $185,000,000 as compared with a surplus of $398,000,000 in 1928."

Aggregate tax receipts was $3,540,000,000 or $176,000,000 more than receipts from the same sources in 1928. Income tax receipts aggregated $2,330,000,000 as against $2,174,000,000 in 1928, or an increase of $156,000,000.

A "remarkable increase" of about $220,000,000 in receipts from current individual income tax was attributed by the treasury chiefly to widespread prosperity and profits made on the bull stock markets of the past year.

Sweeping increases in tariff duties now under consideration by congress had the effect of causing an increase in customs duties as importers have hastened to bring in large stocks from abroad before the rise in duties, the statement said.

Customs duties yielded $602,000,000, as compared with $569,000,000 in 1928.

JAPANESE CABINET DECIDES TO RESIGN

Tokio, July 1.—(UP)—The Japanese cabinet headed by Baron Gicchi Tanaka met today and decided to resign in a body.

The resignation was attributed to recent attacks on the government by the opposition, and the controversy over punishing Japanese army officers held responsible for the train bombing in Manchuria last June in which General Chang-Tso-Lin was killed.

It was expected a new cabinet would be formed with Yuko Hamaguchi, leader of the Minseit party, as premier, and Baron Kihuro Shidehara, former ambassador to the United States, as foreign minister.

SERIOUSLY WOUNDS WIFE, THEN SLAYS SELF

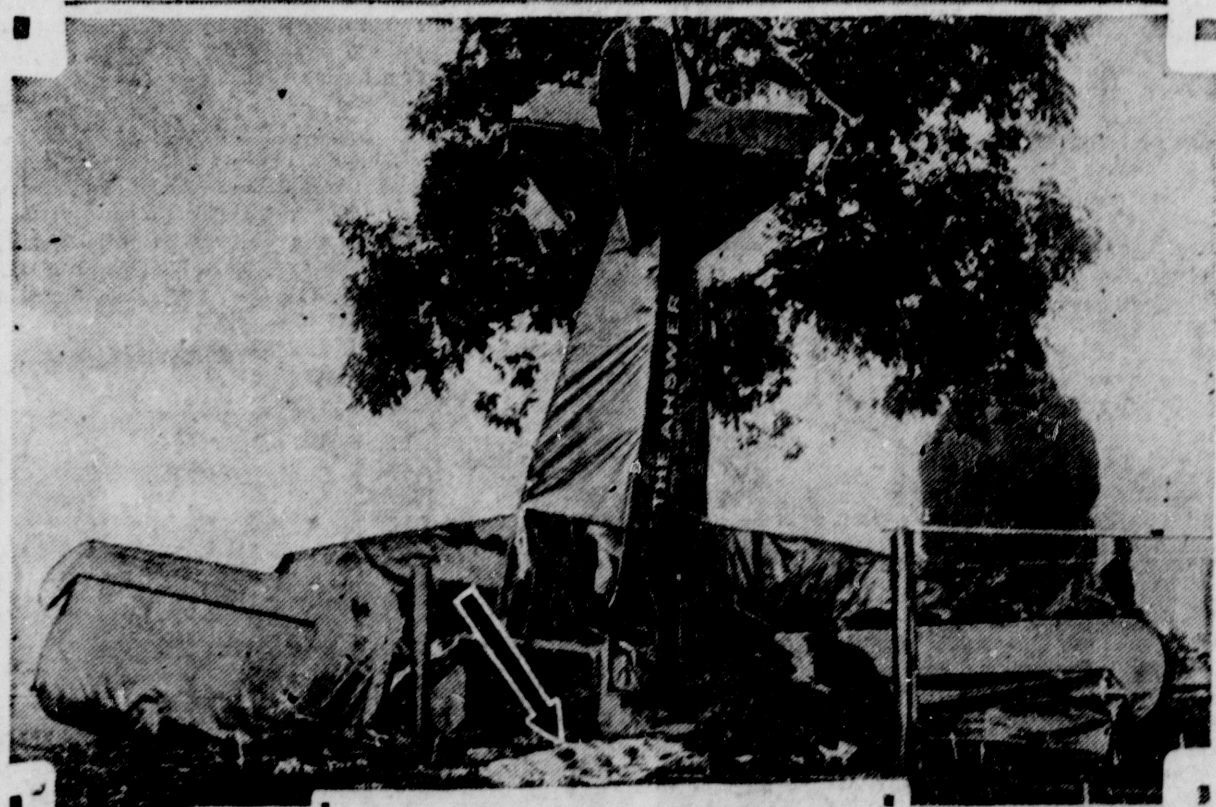

Chatfield, Minn., July 1.—(UP)—Ira Hitchcock, 45, today shot and killed himself after he had seriously wounded his 40-year-old wife during what was believed a family quarrel.

The shots fired by the harness maker were heard by the Hitchcock children. Mrs. Hitchcock was struck four times and the husband was wounded in the temple.

Hitchcock recently was sent to jail for abusing his wife. Six children survive.

5 Killed and 2 Injured in German Airplane Mishap

Berlin, July 1.—(UP)—Five persons were killed and two injured when a passenger hydroplane capsized while attempting to alight on Lake Constance near Lindau, Bavaria.

Wreckage of "The Answer" in which Viola Gentry and Jack Ashcraft were flying in an attempted refueling endurance flight from Roosevelt Field. The pair attempted a forced landing when they found their gas had given out and a dense fog prevented their seeing a tree on the Hicks estate near Roosevelt Field where their plane crashed. Ashcraft was killed outright and Miss Gentry was unconscious when Henry Hicks and his son dragged them from the cabin of the plane.

"DETOUR" SHOWS HOME LIFE

Cross Section of America in Chautauqua Play
A New York Success

The great New York success, "The Detour" will be one of the attractions of Chautauqua. Its claim for success, aside from its intrinsic value, lies in the fact that its lines and action portray a section of American life that is most universally known and appreciated. It is a story of the American home.

The father is a small truck farmer, beset by taxes and debts. His all absorbing ambition is to secure enough money to buy additional land. The family, therefore, is constantly in great need of the most simple pleasures and luxuries in life.

The mother, who has been ambitious in her youth for a career, has centered her heart's affection and her hopes upon her daughter. The latter sometimes works in the village store and sometimes teaches school.

The mother through her own efforts has been able to earn some money from time to time and for years the two have labored and their combined savings have been kept in an old jar in the house.

Appearing on Chautauqua program tonight, corner of Sixth and Oak Streets

Blouse Very Important Part of Chic Ensemble

Blouses this season are considered less as a separate item than a part—and an important part—of the ensemble. The collections contain a large assortment, using every shade of the new colors, some quite plain, others elaborate enough to complete a handsome costume. Some engaging models of printed goods are shown, which are to be matched by the scarf and hat trimming.

Among the simpler blouses of plain goods are some made with intricate diagonal seaming, fagotting, stitching or other needlework, and in some the neckline is much softened by means of a scarf, tie, jabot or frill of the material, which in crepe blouses is fringed along the edge and made to cascade down the front.

In a colorful ensemble in nasturtium yellows, with a hat of light Milan straw of medium-size brim, trimmed with a double strip of crepe in two shades of yellow, there is a soft blouse made of the deepest shade, of diagonal sections joined with fine single tuck-ing. It has a plain V-neck, and at one side a scarf of the crepe fringed all along the edges, which is to be worn about the throat and which is long enough to extend over the opposite shoulder and down the back. This little ensemble includes a skirt of light brown plaited crepe, and gloves, hosiery and shoes to harmonize, and make a chic, becoming and practical costume, suitable for almost any informal daytime occasion other than active sports.

The same idea, carried out with many variants of colors and fabrics in models that are both simple and elaborate, has met with immediate success. Lace, chiffon, figured and plain voile, metallic Rodier stuffs and beaded nets are worn with separate skirt in the same color scheme, making a dressy outfit that will answer for formal luncheon, restaurant dinner and the play.

Some new Parisian models are made of net in blue, beige or rose, the hat, scarf and blouse being solidly covered with sequins, while the skirt is softly draped and of chiffon, georgette or net of matching color. For each of these ensembles the accompanying hat is a turban model.

Afternoon Net

Aluminum gray net, made double and tailored admirably, fashions a sweet afternoon frock with full, long sleeves and an uneven full skirt. A matching horsehair hat tops the costume, with a single big lavender flower under one side.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

July 1, 1904

George S. McCullough, manager of the poor farm, is telling a story today of how he saw a big buck deer running across the meadow of the poor farm a day or two ago. It was a beauty and stopped for a few minutes to play with the cattle in the field, but finally trotted away swiftly toward the Gardner farm.

Dr. and Mrs. Stuart and daughter left this afternoon for the Twin Cities where they expect to make their future home.

The new building being built on the corner of Eighth and Laurel streets by the Mahlum Lumber company is now well under way. The foundation is all in and the work on the superstructure will commence at once.

There will be a grand Fourth of July celebration for Brainerd people this year at Gilbert Lake. The celebration will be under the auspices of the Modern Woodmen and the Royal Neighbors. The lake is on the outskirts of the city, and it is expected a large crowd from Brainerd will be there for the day.

On Tuesday there was a special election held at Bemidji to vote on the proposition to incorporate the village. The proposition lost two to one.

John Corchane has installed a system of electric apparatus for face massage in his barber shop under the First National bank.

Judge Fleming returned from St. Paul this morning where he went yesterday on business.

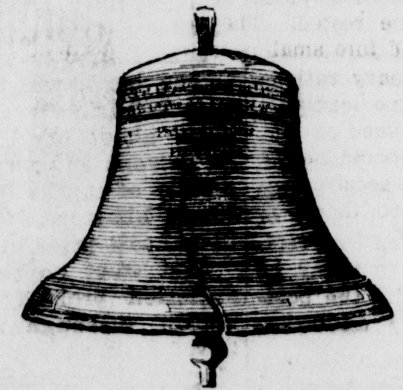

Judge S. F. Alderman returned today from his old home in Connecticut where he has been visiting for a month.

Florence Rebekah Lodge

Florence Rebekah Lodge No. 111 will meet this evening in regular session. District President Mabel Hendrickson of Deerwood, will make her official visit.

Refreshments will be served after the business session.

NOVEL PLATFORM FOR MAYORALTY

FENCE TO KEEP INTOXICATED NEW YORKERS FROM FALLING OFF MANHATTAN ISLAND

By HARRY FERGUSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, July 1.—(U.P.)—Axel T. Fredlund, A. M., B. S. and some time street car conductor, came out for mayor today and staked his hopes for election on a plan he was devised to keep intoxicated gentlemen from falling off Manhattan Island.

Fredlund's plan is so simple he professed to be astonished that other candidates had not thought of it—he merely proposes to put a high fence at the points where imbibers are most likely to walk into the rivers or ocean.

Although Fredlund (Ind. Gen.) is not a drinking man himself he explained that he would become knight errant to every New Yorker who raises his voice to "Sweet Adeline" and proposes to "have just one more and then go home."

"There is at present," said Fredlund, "no adequate system for caring for the large class of our citizens who occasionally or habitually drink too much. As soon as I am elected I shall establish recuperation places at convenient points throughout the city."

"Policemen will be under strict orders to take charge of all intoxicated men and convey them to these places where they may rest and receive any medical attention necessary."

Speakeasies, according to Fredlund's platform, are a menace to the American home and he plans to cope with that evil by licensing the sale of liquor at soda fountains, and seeing to it that the fountains undersell the speakeasies and drive them out of business.

Police Commissioner Grover Whalen will find himself out of a job if the electorate rallies to Fredlund, for the most recent mayoralty candidate proposes to place "a man from the ranks" in control.

The fortunate patrolman who gets the post will have his crime detection problems simplified greatly for Fredlund will install "a high class medium, skilled in all forms of spiritualistic phenomena" at headquarters.

Avoid Market Losses

When ready for market, hogs should be assembled a sufficient length of time prior to the date of shipment to allow them to become rested. They should not be crowded into small pens or houses nor fed heavy rations. If they are driven to the loading point they should not be rushed on the way. The loading chutes should not be too steep, should be made secure, and have the sides protected so that the animals will not fall off.

Oil Kills Lice

It is not much trouble to get rid of lice on hogs, since either crude oil or the waste oil taken from the crank case of your car will do the job. Sprinkling with a garden sprinkling pot or a sprayer is a convenient way. It is a good plan to put all the hogs in a pen or stall with just room for the hogs to crowd in close together. Then sprinkle them well over their backs and sides. The oil will spread entirely over them if they are left in the pen two or three hours.

'SIAMESE TWIN' WATERMELON

When a huge shipment of watermelons arrived in Chicago from Georgia a South Water Street market man found this "Siamese Twin" melon in one of the cars. Miss Marie Doll, who is holding the melon, or melons, can testify to the fact that the freak weighs 52 pounds.

FISHING VILLAGE?

This might be a fishing village on the bleak coast of Massachusetts, mightn't it? But it is really the headquarters of Fred Weimer and his fishing crew at the Kinzie street bridge and the river in the heart of Chicago, with skyscrapers in the background.

Scientific Theory

Because the maps of South America, Australia, India, and the Antarctic continent can be fitted neatly around a map of South Africa, some scientists think it possible that great land masses long ago broke up to form the continents.

Found Mascagni Quite

Unaffected by Noise

To see Mascagni at work means to have all one's preconceived ideas as to the birth of music upset. The maestro does not shut himself in a room and there, in communion with his divine inspirations and his piano, compose the strains that will rouse thousands. Nothing of the kind, as I saw to my great astonishment when I went to see him as he was composing I forget which piece of music.

I called at his house and was shown into a room where, besides himself, there were his wife, Signora Lisa, and his three children. But whereas the wife was very quiet and did nothing to attract one's attention, the same could not be said of the children. All three of them were contemporaneously trying to climb on the knees of the composer, who was absent-mindedly running his fingers through the hair of Dino, his second boy. The whole operation was accompanied on the part of the young ones by loud cries and war-whoops to which, apparently, I was the only one who gave any attention.

I found myself saying something like: "Having a jolly romp with the little ones, eh?" but to my great surprise Mascagni replied, quite casually:

"No, I was just trying to put down on paper a motif which is in my head but which I have not yet defined."—Salvatore Costelli in "My Thirty Years of Friendship."

Iris Adaptable

From the study of geographical distribution of the Iris it appears that the two centers of original location are central and southern Europe and the Orient, especially China. For the most part, however, the exotic species are thoroughly at home on the American continent and in certain sections have established themselves as freely as any native plant.

BRAINERD AIR FIELD

THE Brainerd air field is one built through private initiative. It is a 160 acre tract located on the outskirts of Brainerd, reached by cement highway on 13th street, and is owned by Henry and Peter Rosko of Brainerd.

An air field is judged by its runways. Their size and maintained condition govern the landing and take off of airplanes. The runways on the Rosko air field have been graded, rolled, sodded and marked.

At present the east and west runway is 350 feet wide and originally 1900 feet long. The north and south runway is 350 feet wide and 2100 feet long. Both are well marked. At the intersection of the runways the width has recently been made 700 feet. The east and west runway last week was extended 400 feet in an easterly direction.

A caretaker's house is on the grounds and fuel accommodations. There is cab service to and from the field. The field is located one and a quarter miles southeast of the city concrete water tower and three-quarters of a mile south of the two concrete stacks of the Northern Pacific railway shops. The air field has been surveyed and recorded with the Department of Commerce listed as a commercial airport. The air field has a government standard circle and wind indicator.

High speed landing planes such as owned by Lee Boyer of Deadwood, S. D., who attended the North Central Electric Association convention in the lake region, and other planes have landed and taken off expeditiously and termed the field a good one.

With the wind in the right quarter a plane may be able to land on a golf course, but it is a costly proceeding. The tail skids of a plane act as a brake and bite into the ground when a landing is made. They tear into the turf and may cause $50 damage to the greens, plus some more damage when a take off is made. Fliers nowadays are cautious of landing anywhere except on well marked flying fields and especially not on golf courses not marked to receive them.

C. E. Burnham, vice president of the Mid-West Aviation Corporation of Omaha, Neb., in a letter to Rosko Brothers writes of his recent experience landing at Brainerd, "I was very much surprised to find such a nice field at Brainerd and you are sure going to have a very nice airport."

The various conventions to be held in the Brainerd Lake Region will bring many fliers to this area. As in the case with Lee Boyer of Deadwood, S. D., the plane can be landed and cared for at Brainerd and the flier and his party can then motor to any point they wish to go.

TOURIST BUSINESS GIVEN IMPETUS

THE advance of warm weather has at length stirred the tourist business and rail as well as highway is responding to the impetus. Here in Brainerd the difference has been perceived, as well as out at the resorts and the lake cottages. Cars from all states of the Union can be seen on our city streets, and "Where is the best fishing?" is a common query.

The Northern Pacific railway Saturday night recorded the heaviest night in passenger business in its history when it handled out of St. Paul 26 extra Pullman coaches of tourists. The Yellowstone Comet, which operates into the Gardiner gateway of Yellowstone National Park, was run in four sections. A heavy influx of tourists also went into the Cody gateway. Of the extra Pullmans, 21 were destined to Yellowstone Park, while five others carried tourists to the resorts in the Pacific Northwest, including the Olympic Peninsula. Alaska was the destination of some of the tourists.

According to E. E. Nelson, passenger traffic manager of the Northern Pacific, the tourist season this year started off more auspiciously than it has for many years. The North Coast Limited, now an all-Pullman train between Chicago and the Pacific Northwest, has done capacity business since inauguration of the faster service on June 9.

ABANDONING SOME SPUR TRACKS

THE State Railroad and Warehouse Commission has received application from the Minnesota & International railway requesting permission to take up and abandon 19 spur tracks at various points along the line of the railway, for the reason that the tracks named were originally constructed to handle timber business in the territory shown and that the necessity for these tracks has long since disappeared.

On Tuesday, July 16, there will be a hearing at 10 a. m. at the Brainerd depot regarding Wise's spur, 3.98 miles north of Brainerd; spur 44, which is 2.6 miles south of Backus; the Krueger-Boughton spur of Bemidji, and the Crookston Lumber Co. planer's spur at Plant No. 2, Bemidji.

Hearings on other designated spurs will be held Tuesday, July 16, at Bemidji, and Wednesday, July 17, at International Falls.

Abandonment of these spurs indicates that the timber fringe which once furnished business to the railway at the various points named has disappeared and that at other points mill changes have caused changes in mill product traffic.

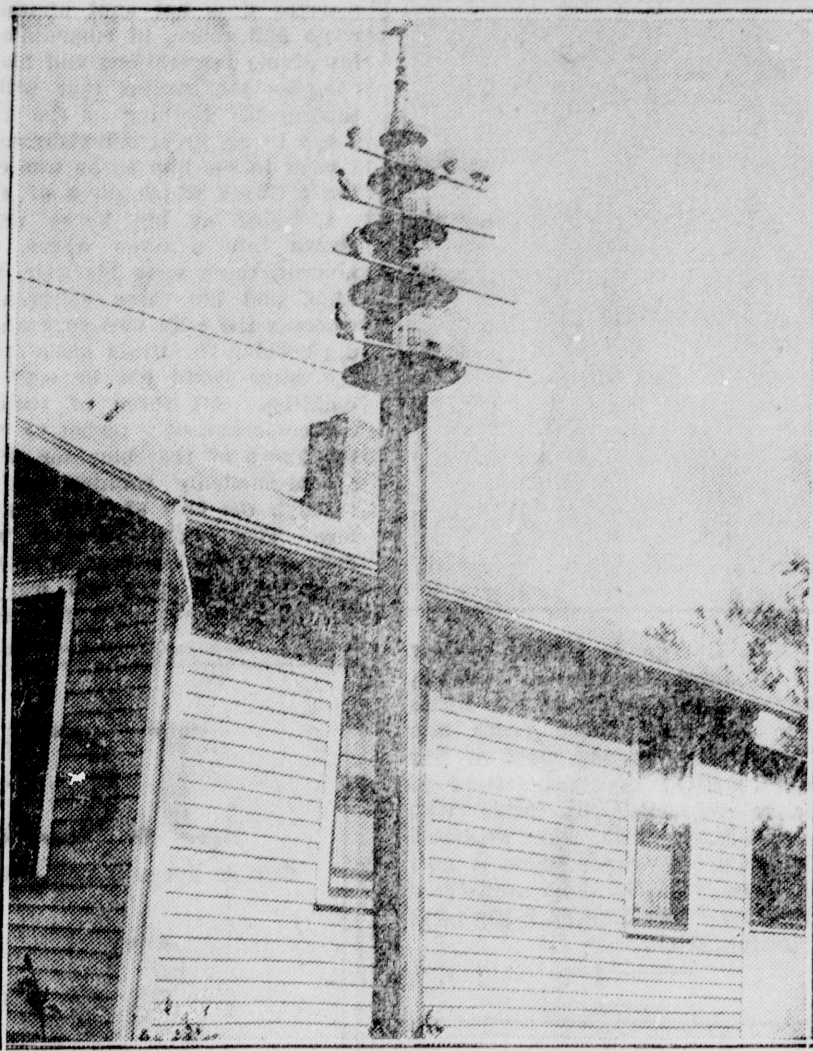

Notice to the general public has been given by the posting of notices by the railway company at the stations nearest to the spur tracks to be taken up.

EXTRAVAGANCE

"AMERICAN taxpayers are having to carry too heavy a load," says the Corpus Christi, Texas, Caller. "There are too many 'public servants' on the pay rolls. From the multiplied bureaus at Washington down through the various state capitols to the smallest city ward or county bailiwick there are too many salaried positions in proportion to the service rendered. The overlapping of county and municipal governments has produced needless duplication and it seems that at every meeting of the state or national lawmaking bodies new officers or salaried commissions are created. "Bond issues have made possible extensive improvements in public buildings and public roads, but at the same time there has been much money wasted."

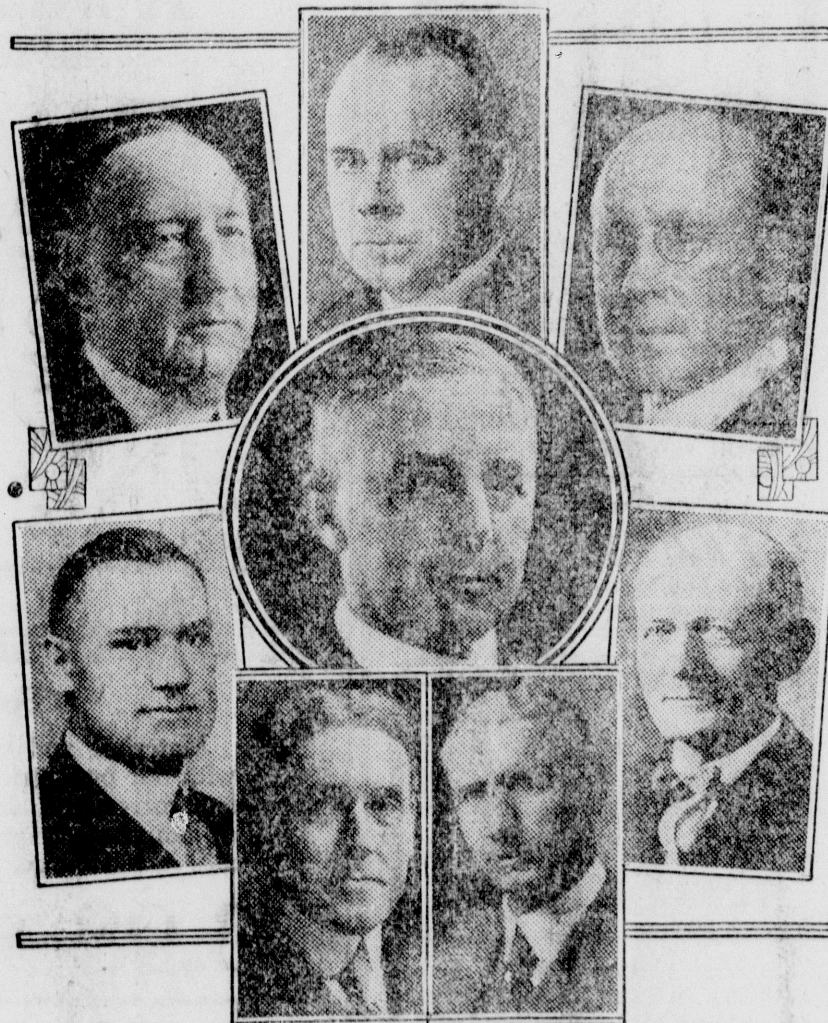

"There is so much waste and extravagance in government we sometimes wonder that taxpayers continue to endure the system. Good business judgment should prompt business men, high and low, to combine their efforts to check the growing tax burden; for, after all, taxation is a burden upon business and business expansion."

BIRD SKYSCRAPER

The very latest thing in a home for birds is this one in Lawrence, Kan., which has setbacks and spires. It accommodates over 100 martins and is considered one of the bluest ever built. F. L. Hunt of Lawrence, who conducts this particular bird haven, provides a free cafeteria, and takes his rent out in song.

ROAD DELEGATES ROLLING DOWN TO RIO

Out of the abundance of her experience the United States is sending to the Second Pan American Congress of Highways at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, a commission named by President Hoover that is said to represent the best thought and practice in highway affairs in this country. One of the subjects of the conference will be the Pan American Highway. They said July 27. Top, left to right: Representative Cyrus Cole of Iowa; Thomas H. MacDonald, Chief of the United States Bureau of Public Roads, and Senator Tasker L. Oddie of Nevada. Center: Chairman J. Walter Drake, Highway Education Board, former Assistant Secretary of Commerce. Lower, left to right: Frank T. Sheets, Chief Highway Engineer for Illinois; H. H. Rice, treasurer of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce; Frederick A. Reimer, president of the American Road Builders Association, and Charles M. Babcock, Commissioner of Highways for Minnesota.

Goldsmith's Birthplace

The birthplace of Oliver Goldsmith, the British poet, playwright, and novelist, is not known for certain. He is usually said to have been born at Pallas or Pallasmore, County Longford, Ireland. Recent investigations indicate that he may have been born at Elphin, Roscommon, Ireland, in the home of his mother's father, Rev. Oliver Jones. At any rate, Goldsmith was born in Ireland in 1728.

Fifteenth Chief Executive

James Buchanan, fifteenth President of the United States, was born near Foltz, Franklin county, Pennsylvania, on April 23, 1791. Buchanan was elected President in 1856. He was active in politics before he was elected.

"At home after July first--"

Each year thousands upon thousands of those neat, white envelopes find their way through the mails. You know what they are before you open them . . . an inner envelope, and a trim card—"Mr. and Mrs. So-and-so announce the marriage of their daughter"—and another card—"At home after July 1st, at 101 Moonlight Ave."

Every one means a new home initiated, a new family begun . . . a new set of problems faced by "two-who-are-one."

They've many a question to settle, and many a thing to buy. Furniture, kitchenware, linen and china—silverware, cereals, meat and potatoes. . . . Familiar names will pass their lips as they buy—easily, naturally. Advertised products, quality merchandise . . . reliable . . . dependable. They've known them all their lives. But now they'll begin to read the advertisements in earnest—comparing values, budgeting expenses, choosing this, rejecting that, reserving the other till hubby gets his raise. They'll manage, all right—with the advertisements to help them.

Make it a habit to read the advertisements regularly. The days of helter-skelter selection and blindfolded buying are over. For the sake of time, economy and convenience, have your mind made up when you start out to buy.

Regular reading of the advertisements is one of the essentials of good housekeeping.

New York, July 1.—They tell of a negro servant in the Atlanta Athletic Club who insisted, anent the affair of the past four days at Winged Foot:

"That ain't no open championship. It's an invitation tournament."

"How do you figure that?" he was asked.
"Well, suh," explained the boy, "I figure they just invites all the professionals to come and see if any of them can beat Bobby Jones."

It was demonstrated at Winged Foot that this is just about true. Bobby's worst round of any national open, a weird 79 on Saturday afternoon, had forced him into a tie for first place with Al Espinosa, the Glencoe, Ill., professional.

They played off for the title Sunday, and Jones won by 23 strokes in the course of 36 holes.

The Atlantan thus annexed his third open championship of the United States. He now holds the open and amateur title, although he must defend the latter honor at Pebble Beach in September.

Jones had an aggregate of 141 for the two rounds which comprised the play-off. Espinosa took 164.

Bobby was playing unbeatable golf yesterday, starting with a par 72 and finishing with a 69, three strokes under par, for his record play-off aggregate of 141. Espinosa, unfortunately, was playing unbelievably bad golf for a professional of his ability. His two rounds were 84 and 80.

Under the circumstances, there naturally was no contest to speak of. The professional was beaten by the time they hit the turn in the morning round, with a gallery of some 10,000 eager golf fans stampeding up and down Winged Foot's fairways delighting in the spectacle.

Jones has his third national open title. He won at Inwood in 1923 and at Scioto in 1926. He was in a tie for the championship in 1925, and lost to Willie McFarlane. Last year, he tied Johnny Farrell at Olympia Fields and was beaten by a stroke.

Bobby will go to Pebble Beach to have another try at defending the amateur crown. Then, probably, he will retire from tournament golf for a while.

New Fordham Flash

When Frankie Frisch cavorted around second base for the Fordham university baseball team, he was seen by big-league scouts and upon graduation was put to work for the New York Giants, stepping from a collegiate to a big league diamond in one jump. Another Fordhamite promises to do this same thing. He is a pitcher, and his name is John Murphy. He's twenty years old, and his dazzling record has attracted all sorts of admiration. The boy is six feet two inches in height and weighs 190 pounds.

WHOLE CHICAGO TEAM INSPIRED BY HIS WORK

AFTER SLOW START, AT BAT AND IN FIELD, GAME BECOMES BRILLIANT

CUBS HAVE WON 8 STRAIGHT GAMES FROM ST. LOUIS CARDINALS

By BERT DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, July 1.—Rogers Hornsby finally has hit his real stride, and the knowledge that he is again the rajah of swat has sent pennant hopes in Chicago to their highest pitch of the season.

After a slow start, both at bat and in the field, Hornsby's game became brilliant ten days ago and apparently the whole Chicago team was inspired by his leadership, for the Cubs have won eight straight games from the St. Louis Cardinals, taking the league lead.

In the last six games, Rogers obtained 14 hits out of 20 times at bat for an average of .700. Four of the hits were home runs, three were doubles and two were triples, making a total of 34 bases with 15 hits.

Coupled with Hornsby's showing as evidence that the jinx finally has left the Cubs is the fact that Hal Carlson, who was once a great pitcher but who has been of little use for two seasons, finally has bested the sore arm which bothered him. Yesterday Carlson, sent in as relief, pitched four innings and let St. Louis down without a hit.

Also there is evidence that Gabby Hartnett, who has been out with a sore arm all season, is about ready to take up the catching burden and his return will materially strengthen the team.

Jack Wilson and Kiki Cuyler, Hornsby's brother members of the Cubs' wrecking crew, have gone with the rajah in his climb. In his last 23 times at bat, Wilson has obtained 9 hits, for an average of .391 and Cuyler has gotten 10 out of 26, averaging .384.

With practically the whole team hitting better and leading the league in team fielding, and Hartnett about ready to get back into the game, the Cubs look better than at any time this season.

OVER 100 STAR ATHLETES GATHER FOR A. A. U. MEET

Denver, July 1.—(U.P.)—More than 100 of the nation's star athletes were on the ground today for the national A. A. U. track and field championships.

Two hundred and fifty are expected to participate in the events in the Denver university stadium Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The meet opens with the junior championships. These will be completed the first afternoon. Senior championships will be held Thursday.

Friday's program offers the decathlon championships in 10 events and the relays in distances of 440 yards to four miles.

ROSCOE FAWCETT TIES COURSE RECORD AT BREEZY POINT

HAD HIS PUTTER BEEN WORKING HE WOULD HAVE BROKEN RECORD WITH 69

10,000 LAKES GOLF TOURNEY TO BE HELD ON JULY 4, 5 AND 6

Captain Roscoe Fawcett tied the course record of Breezy Point Sunday with a 71. Had Mr. Fawcett's putter been working on the ninth and final greens of a very brilliant 18 holes, he would have undoubtedly had a wonderful round of 69. On the outgoing nine he missed a 15-foot putt for a 32 and on the 18th green he missed a 10-footer to break the course record of 71. The course record was jointly held by Art Tveraa, Minneapolis golf club, and Herb Crummy, resident pro.

Ralph W. Little of Minneapolis golf club, got a remarkable practice round of 77 and Chad Jewett of Bemidji had a fine round of 76. Ray Ryan of Chicago toured the course in 77. It is quite certain that there will be many out of state entries for the tournament as many from Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha and St. Louis are on hand already.

Many golfers are coming by airplane for the 4th of July 10,000 Lakes Tournament and landing at the Brainerd air field. E. T. Meredith, Jr., and party of Des Moines, Ia., flew up in his monoplane. Mr. Meredith is the son of the late E. T. Meredith, Sr., former secretary of agriculture and publisher of farm journals.

A. J. Osman of Rochester, Minn., claims that flying an airplane to play golf is easier on one's nerves than driving a car at great distance. He flew from Rochester in two hours flat.

Jack C. Pendergast, former champion of Tasmania, now at Chicago, expects to fly his plane from Chicago to the tournament.

Recent arrivals practicing for the tournament are: Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Heller of St. Paul, Mrs. Sam Waters, Interlachen; Warren Pease, Interlachen; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shinn of Chicago.

It is expected that most of the golfers will be on hand a couple of days before the regular tournament which starts on the Fourth and ends on July 6, and there is a possibility of having a team match of the various clubs in the state.

(By United Press)

Yesterday's Hero—Harry Rice, Detroit outfielder, whose spectacular catch of Jamieson's fly in the ninth cut off two runs and enabled the Tigers to beat the Cleveland Indians, 11 to 10. He also made four hits.

Fred Marberry gave Washington its second victory in fifteen games played against Philadelphia by beating the Athletics, 12 to 2. He allowed but six hits.

With the Browns leading 2 to 0, rath halted the St. Louis-Chicago White Sox game at the end of the third inning.

Babe Ruth hit home run No. 16 and drove in four runs as the New York Yankees beat the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 4.

After beating the Phillies, 11 to 2, in the first game, the New York Giants were tamed by Claude Willoughby in the second game, 4 to 2.

Overcoming a seven run lead the Chicago Cubs made it four straight over the St. Louis Cardinals, 14 to 8, and held their half game lead over the Pirates.

Staving off a Red rally in the ninth after two runs had scored, Pittsburgh beat Cincinnati, 7 to 6.

Brooklyn divided a double header with the Boston Braves, winning the first game, 5 to 3, and losing the second game, 10 to 6.

CLEAN QUARTERS
ARE MOST VITAL

Pigs Cannot Escape Parasites in Foul Pens.

Probably there is no more common or more serious parasite of domestic animals than the common roundworm of swine. These worms, says R. F. Bourne of the veterinary division, Colorado Agricultural college, ordinarily occur in the small intestines but are frequently found invading the adjacent organs, particularly the bile ducts of the liver.

It is practically impossible to raise pigs free from worms in quarters which have been used for hog raising for years because the soil is polluted with millions of eggs passed by animals of previous years, each egg containing a live embryo ready to launch its attack when ingested by the young pig. Because of this fact it is important that all farrowing pens be either located on clean ground or that they be thoroughly scrubbed with boiling water and lye. Ordinary antiseptics do no good in so far as destroying worm larvae is concerned.

Pigs born into a clean environment and kept free from contact with old infected pens escape the various hazards accompanying worm infestation. It is desirable to move them from these clean pens into open fields or pastures wherever this is possible and to keep them away from infected quarters until they are at least four or five months of age. A good deal can be accomplished by ordinary sanitary measures in removing the filth which accumulates in hog pens and in the use of sanitary wallows.

Removal of worms from adult pigs is best done by a qualified veterinarian since no simple treatment seems to be very effective.

Money in Raising Pigs
by Saving Little Ones

The sure way to make money raising pigs is to save them. Every little pig that is lost increases the cost of those saved. Very commonly one-third to one-half the pigs farrowed die before weaning time. A pig at farrowing time is worth or has cost approximately $3, and it pays well to keep as many of them alive as possible. Aim to be on hand when the sow farrows to see that everything goes well and that the little pigs get their first meal as soon as possible. Then, be sure they have a place to keep warm. Have a guard rail around the pen or a protected corner with most of the bedding in this protected place.

We're Banking on Them

By QUIN HALL.
THE general sentiment seems to be that the veteran tennis players, Tilden and Hunter, are no longer capable of downing the French stars, who will defend their rights to keep the classic Davis cup late this month in Paris.

As a consequence, it would appear that your bewhiskered Uncle Samuel will have to depend almost entirely upon his younger crop of tennis players. While such racket wielders as Lott, Hennessey, Allison and Van Ryn are smart shooters, it is fairly well agreed that they lack the necessary experience in international competition to bring that Davis mug back to this country.

Right now, these four youngsters, with the addition of Tilden and Hunter, are prepping on the Continent for the interzone finals which are due to get under way at Paris, July 19. A week later—if our boys are victorious in the interzone finals—they will be called upon to face the challenged country, France, with her four racketeers—Cochet, Lacoste, Borotra and Brugnon. This will be a hard test for youth as all of the French aces are seasoned veterans with an extensive background of international competition.

Lott and Hennessey made the trip last year, the Indianapolis youth breaking into the singles against France. Van Ryn and Allison are making their first trip in quest of the Davis Cup and it is likely that Van Ryn will see a great deal more service than Allison.

One reason for this is that Allison's form is likely to vary with the weather while Van Ryn plays a well-balanced game with no conspicuous weaknesses. Junior Coen is abroad but he is not a candidate for the team this year.

The more optimistic of the tennis fans feel that the U. S. has a better chance this year than last. In the singles, Tilden will probably still be on the firing line and it is not improbable that young Van Ryn will take over the other singles assignment, replacing the veteran, Hunter. An all-youngster team might also be framed for the doubles.

The exact line-up will not be known until shortly before the matches, but youth is sure to figure—how strongly remains to be seen.

SUGGESTION FOR SAFER DRIVING

Common Sense and Care Should be Used in Automobile Driving

As a contribution towards greater safety and more pleasant driving conditions on the highways of the country this summer, the Ford Motor Company has listed 12 rules as suggestions to motorists and has distributed them to dealers over the country.

Announcement of the suggestions was made today by W. P. Tyrholm, Ford dealer in this city, who will display the list prominently in his place of business.

"These rules," said Mr. Tyrholm, "are merely common sense as applied to automobile driving. Every experienced motorist knows all of them. It is our hope, however, that by stating them concisely and posting them where they will come to the attention of a great many motorists, we can so emphasize them as to make a real contribution towards greater highway safety."

The 12 rules are:

1. Courtesy comes first. Consider the rights and privileges of others.
2. Keep your mind on your driving, and anticipate sudden emergencies.
3. Learn the "feel" of having your car under control.
4. Obey all traffic and parking regulations.
5. Keep to the right, and comply with road markings and signs.
6. Signal for stops and turns—watch the car ahead.
7. Slow down at crossings, schools, dangerous places.
8. Never pass cars on hills, curves, crossings.
9. Adapt your driving to road conditions—rain, ice, soft spots and ruts.
10. It doesn't pay to take the "right of way" too seriously.
11. When you drive, remember the times when you're a pedestrian.
12. Know the law. It was passed for your protection.

"It is estimated that 20,000,000 persons will tour on American highways this summer," Mr. Tyrholm continued. "Recognition of the rights of others will be essential. Many unpleasant accidents will be avoided if motorists, at times of close situations, will recall these rules and act accordingly. They are the recommendations of the Ford Motor Company offered to give greater peace of mind to those who travel by automobile."

Shrinkage in Weight of Shipping Steers

When steers are shipped to market there is always some shrinkage or loss in weight. By proper handling it is possible to reduce this loss. Steers which have been getting a full feed of corn and alfalfa hay should have their grain somewhat reduced a day or two before shipping and given mostly prairie hay or fodder in place of alfalfa. Steers which have been getting a good deal of silage should be fed dry fodder before shipment to market. Arrange to ship so that the cattle will arrive at the stock yards during the night or early in the morning so they can take on a fill before the buyers bid on them.

Live Stock Hints

Most men will do fairly well to keep an ordinary supply of live stock in good condition and, paying its way.

This year there is a nation-wide movement among sheep raisers to put on a docking and castrating campaign.

As in the case of all other live stock, care and attention are the main essentials in producing good hogs for early market.

A good hog often kept filled with old crank-case oil, diluted with coal oil, and a little coal tar dip added, will hold the lice in check and keep down mange or scurf.

KANE AND BAND PLAY AT POPULAR DANCE

Orchestra Makes Hit With Dancers at Lum Park Pavilion Saturday

PLAY AGAIN SATURDAY

Request Numbers Force Musicians to Play Almost Continuous Program

Jack Kane and his peppy band played a very fine program of dances at Lum Park Saturday evening, the music proving popular to the many Brainerd couples, tourists and visitors from nearby Brainerd in attendance.

The band proved to the satisfaction of the dancers its claim to honors as a first class orchestra. So many request numbers were played that the orchestra played practically continuous from 9 p. m. to midnight. Their singing and specialty numbers were exceptionally good.

Mr. Kane, organizer of the band who maintains membership in the Brainerd unit of the Musicians' Union, has played his band in the Bohemian club at Mexico City for the past four winters making Hennepin, Minn., his headquarters for the summer season.

Mr. Kane and his band will play at Lum Park next Saturday evening. Floyd Lepinski was awarded the prize of five dollars at the dance Saturday.

Mrs. George J. Walenta Leaves on Octorora Today on Trip to Summer Home in Maine

GREET BRAINERD FRIENDS

Luncheon, Teas, Lake Tour Given in Honor of Dean of Women at Colorado College

Mrs. George J. Walenta, dean of women at Colorado college, Colorado Springs, who has been visiting her many friends in Brainerd for the past few days left for Duluth this afternoon from where she will sail this evening on the S. S. Octorora for Buffalo. From there she will continue to her summer home at South China, Maine.

Many social functions have been given in her honor. On Friday afternoon the guilds of St. Paul's Episcopal church honored her at a tea at the home of Mrs. E. A. Farrar on Bluff avenue. A group of ladies enjoyed a no hostess luncheon at the Ransford hotel on Saturday afternoon also to meet Mrs. Walenta. Following the luncheon the ladies motored through the lake region near Brainerd. Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gemmell entertained at their lake home in honor of the visitor and on Sunday W. D. McKay entertained in her honor after which Mrs. Walenta was entertained at Atkin in the evening. Mrs. E. A. Farrar gave a farewell luncheon at Archer's today noon to a small number of friends.

CAR OVERTURNS IN MAKING U TURN

Herman Buscher in Hospital Following Accident on Kindred; Condition Not Serious

Herman Buscher, 215 North 11th street, received internal injuries yesterday afternoon when the car he was driving overturned on Kindred street at Second avenue N. E. as he attempted to make a U turn.

Buscher was taken to the St. Joseph's hospital. His condition is reported as not serious.

Two other occupants of the car escaped with minor bruises.

The Last Salute

The firing a salute over a soldier's grave is an old English custom introduced into this country by Washington in 1777. The custom is so ancient that the original reasons for its existence are not known.

Timely Thought

We ought daily or weekly to dedicate a little time to the reckoning up of the virtues of our belongings—wife, children, friends—and contemplating them then in a beautiful collection. And we should do so now, that we may not pardon and love in vain and too late, after the beloved one has been taken away from us to a better world.—Exchange.

Tree-Climbing Skunk

The common skunk or polecat cannot climb trees. There is only one member of the skunk family that does climb trees to avoid pursuit. This is the kind called the "little spotted skunk" or the "hydropobia skunk" and is found chiefly in the southwestern and western states.

STATE "Y" TAKES OPTION ON TRACT

Plans Call for Construction of $35,000 Summer Camp on Shore of Lake Placid

If plans materialize the State Y. M. C. A. will construct a summer camp to be valued with equipment at $35,000 on a 120 acre tract bordering Lake Placid, four miles south of Deerwood.

Officials of state organization have secured an option on the property. The real estate embraces what is known as the George Roberts land, 100 acres of which is owned by Warren and Son and 20 acres by Mrs. H. H. Keyes.

A New Door needed on the Back Porch

The Back Door looks a little neglected, doesn't it? For one thing, the screening has rusted and fallen away in spots. Doesn't keep the flies out. And the delivery boys and the ice man have soiled the woodwork. It does look messy. It isn't much of a job to put in new netting and to paint the main door and the frame of the other. Let's get busy. What do you say?

"WHAT do you think of your chances?"

"Well, Mr. Cutler, I hardly know. If I can carry the Ninth I'll be all right."

"Charlie, that's a big contract!" The man addressed as Charlie looked gloomily at the fire. He was a young man.

"Charlie," continued Mr. Cutler thoughtfully, "I've set my heart on having you elected district attorney. It's a post that needs just such a man as you are to fill it; but the people aren't awake. Election's only two weeks off, and they still cling to their old traditions. Particularly in the Ninth. It looks bad."

Charles Livingston nodded gloomily. His whole ambition centered around his election to the coveted post which he sought, and not only his ambition but his heart's desire was involved. For Phyllis Cutler, the daughter of the man who was now speaking in tones of discouragement, filled his heart as his political ambition did his mind. He loved her, and was aware that she returned the sentiment; but there was no use speaking to her stern father unless he could point to a strong position honorably won. He must win that election! And yet without the all-important Ninth ward—the social center of the city—he was helpless.

The two men sat in silence. Then Livingston rose and bade the colonel good night. As he was passing out through the entrance hall he heard a light step behind him.

"Charlie!"

"Yes, Phyllis?"

"Charlie, I heard all that you and daddy said. Is it so important to carry the Ninth ward?"

"It's vital, dear, and if I isn't done I won't be elected, and I can't ask your father for the thing I want so much."

The girl in the dim hallway kissed him. "Don't be discouraged, dear. If daddy won't have you unless you're district attorney, why will just have to make you district attorney, that's all."

"But, Phyl!" he smiled, in spite of his discouragement, at her impulsiveness—"I can't get any influence in the Ninth. The machine has prevented your father—the only one I know in that ward—from using his influence. He's helpless, and so am I."

"Charlie, dear, don't be discouraged. It'll all come right—just you wait!"

But as election time approached Charles Livingston was forced to confess to himself that all was coming far from right. There would be just enough against him to swing the election to his opponent. He went through the work preceding the momentous day mechanically, and when election day came around he set himself to watch the returns with stoical resignation.

He was in his office at 9 that night, having eaten nothing since breakfast. His faithful secretary and a few friends were with him. Most of the returns were in, and the results showed what everybody knew—that the Ninth would swing the balance one way or the other. His secretary turned to answer the telephone.

"Here comes the Ninth, chief!" he cried in a shaking voice.

"And here goes our chance," replied Livingston. But even as the words were on his lips, the secretary uttered a cry of triumph.

"Chief! Chief! You carried the Ninth by 1,800! We win! We win!"

Very late that night when the last well-wisher had retired and the last rocket had sputtered and died, Livingston went into the room where he had before consulted with Colonel Cutler. He had come to the Cutler house to receive his friends, as the colonel had invited him, for his own office was too small. Now that his battle was over he wanted his reward.

"Well, my boy, I don't see any objection if Phyllis doesn't," said the colonel. "You won your victory and you deserve her. To tell you the truth, I didn't think you'd do it, for the Ninth seemed dead against us. I couldn't stir to help you. I'd give something to know what swung it your way."

Into the room there burst Phyllis—a laughing, happy Phyllis.

"Oh, daddy, I was listening again. I'm so glad you want Charlie as much as I do. And I'm so happy! And listen. She drew the two men confidentially to her. "I carried the Ninth myself."

"What?" Colonel Cutler could hardly believe his ears.

"Yes, I did. You men were helpless—I knew that—but don't forget that we women have votes and influence—and every girl in the Ninth is a personal friend of mine! Social position does help sometimes. I talked to them and convinced them that Charlie was the man, and they voted for him and made their men friends vote for him. That's all."

"Oh!" Colonel Cutler was amazed. "And what arguments did you use? Did you tell them what a wonderful thing it would be for the town and all that sort of thing?"

"I did not! I told them—I told them that Charlie and I couldn't get married unless he was elected—and that settled it!"

LIVE STOCK NEWS

JAPANESE MILLET IMPERFECT FEED

Experiments Show It to Be Inferior to Timothy.

Hay made from Japanese or barnyard millet, sometimes called Billion Dollar grass, is regarded as inferior to timothy hay as a food for sheep. While few data of an experimental nature are available showing the value of this roughage for sheep, the above statement as to its merits in comparison with timothy, and a general discussion of timothy hay as a roughage for sheep will permit of some deductions, says D. S. Bell of the Ohio experiment station.

In practically all experiments which have been conducted timothy hay has been found a very inferior roughage for sheep feeding. At the college of agriculture, University of Alberta, Alberta, Canada, ewes fed timothy hay yielded lambs one-half of which died before they reached the age of twenty-eight days. Not only was the loss of nursing lambs heavy but the ewes lost 27.8 pounds each in weight during gestation. This lot of ewes was compared with another lot of similar ewes fed alfalfa hay. This alfalfa-fed lot raised all of the lambs weaned, and the ewes were thrifty and vigorous.

In Bulletin 120 of the Missouri Agricultural Experiment station is found this statement concerning timothy hay as a roughage for pregnant and nursing ewes: "Timothy hay proved to be such an inferior ration that it was not continued the second year." The data presented show that the ewes fed timothy hay and grain yielded 17 lambs, five of which were weak at birth, and one born dead. The ewes lost an average of 7.67 pounds during the trial. Ewes fed clover hay and grain yielded 16 lambs all of which were alive and strong at birth, and these clover-hay-fed ewes gained 6.53 pounds each during the test.

With Japanese millet ranking inferior to timothy hay as a roughage and with timothy giving such poor results little can be said in favor of the millet in question. The sheep raiser who is striving for efficiency and economy of production will do well not to use such hay for his ewe flock. If it seems desirable to grow millet for hay, one of the foxtail groups—German, Hungarian, or common—would be more desirable, and even these are not meritorious to any extent.

Prevent Cattle Losses on Sweet Clover Hay

The right precautions will prevent a good share of the loss of cattle on sweet clover hay or pasture. Moldy hay may contain poisons that will kill stock. Sweet clover hay seems to thin the blood of the animals and cause it to lose its clotting characteristic. Some other kind of hay should be fed with clover hay, or the animals should be changed to another kind of roughage after two weeks on sweet clover hay.

Bloat is caused by the rapid decomposition of the high percentage of organic matter in green feed. Bloat on sweet clover pasture may be largely prevented by starting the animals on some other green pasture and then getting them used to the clover slowly. In serious cases, the pressure may be relieved with a trocar. Every farmer who pastures clover of any kind should have one or more trocars on the place for emergency use.—University of Nebraska.

Heifer Calves Finish Quicker Than Steers

Cattle feeders who are feeding steer calves and heifer calves together will observe that the heifer calves seem to finish out quicker than the steer calves. This is not due to the heifer calves making more rapid gains, but rather that they are somewhat smoother in conformation, and tend to put on surface fat sooner than the steer calves. The feeder who has a number of calves on feed should ship the heifer calves as soon as they show enough finish to sell well on the market.

Best Veal Calves

No better veal calves can be produced than those that come from the disease free herds of Wisconsin Holsteins, Brown Swiss, Shorthorns and Ayrshires. For those who prefer the lighter weights there are the smooth finished Guernseys and Jerseys. Veal has taken its place as a year round food and the Wisconsin farmers feel that their calves should sell on the same grade basis that are accorded other live stock.

Hogging Down Corn

Hogging down corn is a satisfactory plan to follow in fattening hogs for market provided conditions are satisfactory for this practice. However, if there is much rainy weather during the period the hogs are running in the corn field, it is very likely that more corn will be required to produce 100 pounds of gain because some corn will be wasted in the mud. Tankage or other protein supplement will be required for the most economical pork gains.
